

Fall from height leading to a fracture of the lateral process of the talus (circle). Because of the displaced nature of the fracture, it was fixed with a plate and three screws. Patient was able to return to full work duty without restrictions.

